the loading of comment post fails when the pagename has a space in it. The name of the page is used as $objectId (templates/comments/list.tpl) and $objectId is used in the data-target attribute that will fail this way in templates/tiki-page_bar.tpl line116 changing $objectId from using $page (which is the pagename) to $page_id (which is the id of the page) seems to fix this, but it brings up issues with counting number of comments fixed with r51876, please test also the menuitems dont appear, they need to be changed to "option" instead of section level in the profile
