Description

When an image is uploaded to a File Gallery, you used to see a thumbnail of it when you moused over the item in the File Gallery table listing

This no longer happens.

This functionality should be restored if at all possible as it is an invaluable feature when you have a gallery with lots of images and you want to be sure which one to use/download closed as this is a second entry of the same bug - caused by a 'bounce' on the dev site
