Description

menus for some time have had the option to have the menu label wiki parsed - which allows customised formatting of the label and if required the addition of images etc

for wiki parsed menus that are displayed using the 'old' suckerfish menus this still works perfectly so that for example a menu item with the label:

Home {img src="img/icons/home.gif" height="12" width="12" alt="Image"} creates the parsed output of:

<li class="option217 menuSection menuSection0 menuLevel0">   Home    </li>

and will correctly display: Home

However when the same menu is displayed using a bootstrap menu format something goes wrong with the wiki parsing causing an additional / to be added to the end of the img tag ie

<li> Home   </li>

this is then displayed as:

Home

ie showing all the html

this seems to happen because in templates/bootstrap_menu.tpl (and also bootstrap_menu_navbar.tpl) the escape smarty modifier is used on the value of the link

this is just an observation, not sure what to do with it 😊
