Description

See show site and video:

Also, it's very unclear how to change the theme of the site.

Workaround

Enable the preference Filter "Advanced" and you'll see the option. But I agree, this should be shown in the basic filters already. I wonder if this was in purpose.

I had a look in the corresponding tpl, but I have no clue how to change the preference filter requirement for the option to change theme. :-/

Alternatively, while this is not properly fixed in the L&F admin panel, admins can change theme as usual

through the Admin Wizard:

- tiki-wizard\_admin.php?&stepNr=4&url=index.php

According the page <http://dev.tiki.org/Creating+New+Preferences>: "If a pref is not tagged, it is considered as "advanced"

So everything that is meant to basic, must be tagged like this:

'tags' => array('basic'),

The level for theme setting can be modified here: lib/prefs/theme.php

with r52194 I modified this

Do we want only `theme_change` to be basic or also layout changing?

Marc Laporte 30 Jul 14 18:16 GMT-0000

http://dev.tiki.org/Creating+New+Preferences#Tags:\_what\_they\_mean
should help

Thanks!

gezza 30 Jul 14 18:25 GMT-0000

i can revert but i think it is ok to have it as basic

But last time I check (a while back), layouts were not stable enough

This was OK in 12.x

Thanks!
