Suite perspective updated

Gary Cunningham-Lee 29 Aug 14 07:55 CEST

(This is actually a reply to the 12 August comment, but the list indenting made it impossibly narrow, so I moved the comment to here.) I just changed the Tiki Suite perspective preference for 'theme' from Fivealive to Fivealive-lite, to be consistent with the other sites. Is this what was broken? It's missing the topbar treatment that's on the other sites, but I'll leave that to the person who's been implementing it, since it isn't documented anywhere as far as I know.

I suggest just unifying the appearance of the sites for now, if people are more or less ok with the Fivealive-lite theme. That is, just have the same static topbar if that's what people want, and so on. And then suggest further modifications or theme changes in a discussion so changes can be agreed to first before being implemented at the sites. if Fivealive-lite itself is a problem, then revert to Fivealive and do the discussion from there.
