Description

trunk broken in next*.tiki.org sites due to Zend issue (zf1 to zf2?)

Error type:

Fatal error: Class 'Zend\Config\Ini' not found in /var/local/doc.tiki.org/www/db/tiki-db.php on line 97

Using latest trunk: r57094

To reproduce, try to visit

<https://nextdev.tiki.org>

or

<https://nextdoc.tiki.org>

etc

Solution

It turned out to be due to several reasons, mainly that the default php on that server was using 5.4, and the setup.sh script had been modified to allow that, but then the zf2 upgrade caused composer to require 5.5+ so it was failing, and the error was going nowhere.

Fixed by slightly improving setup.sh in r57126 and then modifying line 110 to use php56 and not just "php". Seems ok now...

Thanks Jonny! (you're-da-man ;-))

There is another issue breaking any login attempt for me, but this is another story, and I'll submit another bug report about it. Stay tuned! 😊

That will still need fixing for ini files to work i think, so maybe should have a new wish?
