Description

Add checkbox to tag forum thread as 'expected feedback obtained', or [SOLVED], and allow filtering and reporting based on that also

Similar to filtering closed item with the chance to reopen, but for support forums and without closing the thread, but at least indicating to power users that they'd better search first other threads that still require support.

Like the [SOLVED] manual tag renaming the thread subject in a later stage by the poster of the new thread.

Also show these type of unsolved threads in clear way in the daily reports messages
