Description

Use case:

- You have content templates enabled, and revision approval system set for wiki pages.
- You create a new content template "MyTpl" based on a wiki page, under revision approval.
- MyTpl Version 2 is approved. Version 3 is the last edited version of the content template, with no approval yet.
- You create a new wiki page "MyPage", apply the template MyTpl, and you get applied v3 (non approvaed), instead of V2, which is the approved one and should be the one applied by default.

To reproduce, log in as admin:

u: admin

p: 12345

Wiki page:

<http://xavidp-1553-5818.show.tikiwiki.org/tiki-index.php?page=MyPage>

Template:

<http://xavidp-1553-5818.show.tikiwiki.org/tiki-index.php?page=MyTpl>

History of versions of the wiki page template:

<http://xavidp-1553-5818.show.tikiwiki.org/tiki-pagehistory.php?page=MyTpl>

See that last approved version is v2, but there is a v3 which has more content.

Edit the wiki page and try to apply the template:

<http://xavidp-1553-5818.show.tikiwiki.org/tiki-editpage.php?page=MyPage>

V3 is applied instead of v2 (the last approved version)

Can you update to Tiki 18.x the instance and try to reproduce.

Xavier de Pedro 05 Feb 18 19:45 GMT-0000 lacking time for that, sorry. The report was detailed enough, imho, and with show instance. Anyone who confirmed this issue (if still present in 18.x) and interested to fix may reproduce with the provided instance and details...
