Description

while using the paper template, spreadsheet UI style is broken, as it "moves" around when you try to click a button.

After hours of trying to debug this, I found that it was not specifically related to paper. The UI buttons jump around on many themes.

In the end I narrowed the issue down to a style in tiki_base.css by removing the padding rule under a.toolbar:hover, the UI no longer jumps around.

a.toolbar,
a.toolbar:hover {
padding: 4px 2px;
display: inline-block;
border: none;
background: transparent;
}

Solution

This issue was fixed. I dont know exactly when it was fixed but its working just fine for me in 17.0 I presume is was fixed quite some time ago.

Workaround

Remove the above specified line from /themes/base_files/css/tiki_base.css

It works ok for me, with Chrome browser on Windows. Maybe it's browser-specific, or something?

Its strange that you were not able to reproduce it. I had it occurring on the latest version of chrome and firefox. In any case, I have made headway on what the issue was, updated the tracker to reflect the new info.

Hi drsassafras.

Can you please test on Tiki15, and report if the issue is still present there?
And if so, tag it as 15.x regression, please.
