Description
hi
I am using tikiwiki with external authentication (CAS JASIG) and i am able to authenticate users.

The problem is though the user on first login is created (if not in tikiwiki) the system does not assign the default group to that user

Is this a missing feature or i am doing something wrong?

Thank you in advance

Missing feature, since the only "Default" group in Tiki is "Registered".

You can later on set some other groups asa the default one for some users.

You can also set Tiki to make user select their group at registration time. Maybe that's closer to what you need, but for the login box or something like that if CAS is setup?
Feature request, imho.
