Description

When viewing articles in list, the number of reads is not displayed anymore (option: `art_list_reads`) on new articles since Tiki 13. Tiki 12 has no problem.

The bug was introduced in revision 49060. New articles now have `tiki_articles.nbread`s NULL rather than 0.

Solution

Solved for Tiki 17 via r63367

Solved for Tiki 16 via r63368

Solved for Tiki 15 via r63369

These solutions prevent future articles from having inoperant counters, but does not fix the counters of articles which were created while the bug prevailed. Such articles can be fixed with the following SQL queries:

UPDATE tiki_articles SET nbreads=0 WHERE nbreads IS NULL;
UPDATE tiki_submissions SET nbreads=0 WHERE nbreads IS NULL;

However, these queries set the number of reads to 0 instead of the actual number of reads which happened since their creation, which can be misleading.

Starting from Tiki 18, these queries can be executed by running

php console.php patch optional_20170801_initialize_article_nbreads_tiki

I confirm that this is a regression between 12.x and 15.x as of r62506.

This will be fixed in the next releases.
Thank you for reporting wagnerax
