Description
    The registration button in the registration form (tiki-register.php) is not working.
    The click has no effect, because in the script (jquery.validate.js line 59ff) detects validator.pendingRequest and returns 'false'.
    So basically, the button appears to be 'dead'.
    No registration is being processed, no error message issued.

I just tested this on my local 15.x test and it worked ok, although i didn't get the "you just registered" message properly, so something's wrong - could you please create a show.tiki.org instance and set up a test to replicate this please?

Thanks

Thank you for checking this out.
Maybe it's faster if you go to http://www.marui-plugin.com/community/tiki-register.php directly to see it in action.

Ok, i tried it and indeed it fails, in the javascript console i see an error 500 on http://www.marui-plugin.com/community/validate-ajax.php so something's wrong in there. Check your webserver error log to see what the actual error is about.

This works ok on other servers so it's something specific to your setup.

Hello Max,

I checked : http://www.marui-plugin.com/community/tiki-register.php
It is there. 😃
