Description

The mails sent for updates to wishes are text/html only.

A choice to get them in text/plain would be nice.

I'd prefer "either or", but both as mixed/alternative would be an improvement, too. ;-)

Please, indicate versions affected in your bug reports, RadoS.

And regarding this one, if you use "Monitor", you get them in plain text, don't you? And only when you use the "Notification" feature, you get them in html. Am I right?

Please note that they are 2 different features, and the "notification system" was meant to replace the "user watches (monitor)" system, but it didn't, and they are still coexisting.

FYI

Version: I was referring to what you use on dev.t.o .

Plus: at the time of reporting I didn't know it was a user configurable setting.

I was confused:

- logging into t.o didn't make me login to dev.t.o automatically, too.
- user preferences are separate for the 2 areas.
- when I saved my text over html preference, it didn't actually accept it the 1st time, so it was still on html (default), now it did, guess tomorrow will be fine for me then.

So all-in-all this was all bad on my user-end.

Sorry for the noise, closing it.
