Description

I did not choose versions feature is missing, as it is not a part of any version as far as I know, and I thought it would just seem funny to have every single version listed above per " If it's a feature request, indicate the version in which the feature is missing."

I think it would be wonderful to have an editing interface that can be assigned per user group. As it is now, all users share the same Wysiwyg and Syntax editor.

It would be very convenient to have an editor with tools configured per user group. The reason being is, I may not want our users to have access to many of the same tools as I would want to have on my editing tool bar.

Also, it would be nice to present our users with a stripped down tool bar as to not overwhelm the average user. Or some use cases, give the users all the tools they need, yet I may not want those same tools on my editing tool bar.

So, editing tool bar per user group?

Thanks for reading!

I would like to discuss this feature with a developer, as a bounty project. Are any developers available for this?
