Description

- Fresh install of tiki-wiki version 19 from the trunk (svn checkout).
- New database (created beforehand)
- System requirements all OK.
- On step 4, Database Connection, I fill in the database connection information then hit continue, I get the following error :

Fatal error: Uncaught TypeError: Argument 1 passed to TikiDb set() must be an instance of TikiDb, boolean given, called in /var/www/tiki-trunk/installer/tiki-installer.php on line 597 and defined in /var/www/tiki-trunk/lib/core/TikiDb.php:37 Stack trace: #0 /var/www/tiki-trunk/installer/tiki-installer.php(597): TikiDb set(false) #1 /var/www/tiki-trunk/installer/tiki-installer.php(944): initTikiDB('', 'mysqli', 'localhost', 'tiki', 'xxx', 'tikitrunk', 'utf8', false) #2 /var/www/tiki-trunk/tiki-install.php(102):

include_once('/var/www/tiki-t...') #3 {main} thrown in /var/www/tiki-trunk/lib/core/TikiDb.php on line 37

This is always reproducible and is a show stopper.

@yassine: need more info. I haven't seen anyone report this, and several devs are installing Tiki trunk and 19.x all the time.

Can you try again with latest code, and then do a screen share with a developer? Even better provide a dev access (in private)

What is your OS?

Maybe copy-paste here the result of tiki-check.php?

Please indicate the Subversion revision you use and whether you can install Tiki 18 in the same environment.
