Description

Version 18.2

I have configured 'File Galleries' that the 'default view' is set to 'List' and applied this setting

If i now select 'File Galleries' -> 'List galleries' i do see in fact the selected list view.

If i then navigate into a shown folder the view switches automatically to the Finder view.

I assume this is not the expected behavior of a configured default view or is it?

Current behavior:

- Switches view automatically on choosing/opening a folder

Expected behavior:

- stick to the configured default view until a user selects another view
