Description
Version 18.2

If i navigate as default user to an existing file gallery, select a file, open it's file informations (Get Info) and choose "Edit properties" i do have the option to re-upload a file from disk.

I assume this should upload a new file and replace the existing one. It should as well keep the existing ID.

For the default user i do get a blank page after pressing save, and the apache error log shows the following

I don't get this error with my admin user account.
