Hi Luci and Gary,

This issue is almost fixed, we found an issue in modal when creating new trackers where the section titles also have a contrast issue.

https://www.dropbox.com/s/3dptzpwlg6udksb/create_tracker.png?dl=0

Regarding the "huge" subject field, visible in this page also, it happens due to header_custom_css in tiki preferences.

/* Tiki.org specific design overrides */ dt[title="Subject"], dt[title="Subject"] + dd { font-size: 2rem; line-height: 1.5; padding: 1rem 0; }

I do not have permissions to change prefs in dev.t.o and I don't know the reason why it's there in the first place.

Can you please fix it?

Hi Jorge,

I made this on purpose when the site was still on Tiki 18.x to highlight the subject a bit from the rest of the fields but the huge H1 and other font sizes are actually caused by Bootstrap4 default base font size change - now all themes appear with much bigger fonts than in Tiki 18.

Not sure what should be the optimal fix for this.

I'm having issues updating this tracker item, to set me as Volunteered to solve or set the status as "Fix on the way".

Yes, it's a known issue reported in thread "RE: dev.tiki.org ticket modifications quietly lost - again (was Re: I can't edit tickets at dev)" on tikiwiki-devel.

I made it working again! Appears to me that someone "played without telling anyone" with this Tracker properties and re-enabled some stuff like the deprecated old Rating system including "Show ratings in the lists" and when I disabled these deprecated properties it appears to save the edits again! :-o

Hello all,

I've just pushed the changes to fix the tracker items menu contrast.
I also updated the menu header to match the same colors and layout as tracker actions menu.
<https://sourceforge.net/p/tikiwiki/code/68312>

I found an issue where an empty was being rendered even with the monitor_enable preference disabled. That also was fixed.

Gary today committed the fix of the accordion that I've reported yesterday.
