Some background info: I turned on autotoc for the site in order to have it appear on some specific pages. I didn't see a way to have autotoc on those pages without turning it on for the site. Is that possible?

About the broken page issue you describe here, Bernard, the page looks ok to me, but I don't understand why autotoc is showing on the page when, on the page's edit screen, autotoc is set to "off". ??

It should be possible as it is displayed in the Wiki control panel.

The bug described on this trackerItem is still there after : <http://sourceforge.net/p/tikiwiki/code/70284> was applied.

Note that it work on the homePage of brand new installed Tiki20.
