Description

The numeric field is missing the option to display a number that was entered starting with a '0' (zero or null, depending on which country you are from 😃)

The use case: Postal Zip codes.

In the U.S. many on the East Coast start with '0', for example, Maple Shade, New Jersey - 08052

Thanks,
Mike

Hi Mike,
while it might sound logical and tempting to use the number type field for the zip code, it is not such a good idea apparently; see:

- https://css-tricks.com/html-for-zip-codes/

ok, something just changed (most likely Categories), now I see the buttons.
(while 30 min. ago when I logged into Chrome I could not).

Anyways, thanks for the tips Luci - I was thinking along the same lines after I had a meeting with the Client. Like in Excel, if you want a '0', you use a Text field.
I'll give it a try, see how sorting/filtering goes.
