Description
    A request about the Bug Tracker / Wishlist itself - but maybe it already exists but I did not find it - can someone create a Pivot Table to analyze the types of bugs so we can quickly see the percentages of each?

    Should help better understand where efforts need be directed, for a coherent approach to improving overall quality.

    This might help create at least a type of 'passive' Quality Assurance effort (vs. putting out fires) which Tiki very much needs.
    Maybe a 1st step towards some type of ISO standard https://www.iso.org/ics/35.020/x/ though many, not sure which ones are most/least relevant (road map would need to be created).

    Thanks,
    Mike
