Description

Today I solved a longstanding issue, that I could not (for several years and many Tiki versions) load a site logo other than HTML-pointing to an image file, which thus had to be FTP-uploaded, and would not be as easily changeable as an image from an image or file gallery.

My error lies in the documentation of the Look & Feel page, where the blue info text clearly says " or the syntax to display an image in a Tiki gallery". That is not quite correct. It's not entirely wrong, but misleading.

The solution: Enter
tiki-download_file.php?fileId=nn

That works. The syntax to display Images from a gallery would have brackets around, so I would like to ask that this info text include the advice to leave out the brackets.
