Description

There are also those bugs, whose inner workings look like a miracle to someone who is not familiar with the code.

For instance, I cannot translate "Sticky Popup" from the admin page of calendar. There are two different features by the same GUI (!) name on lines 62 and 826 of `/lib/wiki_plugins/wikiplugin_trackerlist.php`:

'stickypopup' => [ 'required' => false, 'name' => tra('Sticky Popup'), 'description' => tra('Choose whether the popup tooltip will stay displayed on mouse out (does not stay open by default)'), 'since' => '2.0', 'filter' => 'alpha', 'default' => '', 'options' => [ ['text' => '', 'value' =>
''], ['text' => tra('Yes'), 'value' => 'y'], ['text' => tra('No'), 'value' => 'n'] ] ], [...]
'calendarstickypopup' => [ 'required' => false, 'name' => tra('Sticky Popup'), 'description' => tra('Calendar item popups will stay open if set to y (Yes). Not sticky by default'), 'since' => '6.0', 'doctype' => 'calendar', 'filter' => 'alpha', 'default' => 'n', 'options' => [ ['text' => '', 'value' =>
''], ['text' => tra('Yes'), 'value' => 'y'], ['text' => tra('No'), 'value' => 'n'] ] ],

As you can see, both (!) call the translation subroutine, and both (!) have a description, so that help string should be visible under a blue question mark icon, next to the feature checkbox on `tiki-admin.php?page=calendar`, but they don't !! And I cannot translate the name, so it shows only "Sticky Popup" and the checkbox, and that's it.

The reason must lie deeper than what I can see in the code by going over it...

And yes, I did check that the space between "Sticky" and "Popup" is really a space (0x20) and not something weird like a shift-space...

Pls see the attachment.

Found the solution. The bug was in language.php from Tiki 18.7 that defined "Sticky popup" => "Sticky Popup", so tra() did work after all, but it was fed with wrong input from the former official de.de translation...
