Description

Articles do not have history. With wiki pages, there is always an undo (and multistage, and with comparison etc.). Articles don't have that, and I believe they should, and it shouldn't be hard to add... The revision system could be shared, or at least recycled, from the one wiki pages have.

About the version number: "18.x Regression" means that this was a regression in 18.x, whereas this is a feature request against 23.x

Sorry. You're right, this isn't a bug report 🤔
