Description
> It should be possible in a tracker to lock items so they never be modified by user actions OR by other functionalities (re-indexing, mathematical calculations, etc).
>
> This is more and more critical as Trackers are improving.
> To make it simple and optional, we could have an option for status;
> "Closed items are immutable".
>
> When enabled closed item can't be modified and stay as is.

I see why this is desirable, but I wonder if it's "Easy for Newbie Dev". @Jonny Bradley ?

I would think not @Marc Laporte, unless they're very bright! 😃

In any case, I think it's better to have many quick wins than have a new dev need to dive deep into Tiki.

I removed the "Easy for Newbie Dev" label.

Partial workarounds:

1. Change permissions so normal users can no longer modify. But Admins can edit, and data coming from calculations can change.
2. PluginArchiveBuilder
