Description

If you have an article listing on your front page, and you create a "breakout" page with older articles, you want to skip those that have already been presented on the front page. In order to achieve this, you can instruct the plugin to skip a number of articles (or a period). But this does not work together with pagination...

{articles max="6" topicId="2" largefirstimage="y" actions="n" title="News" quiet periodQuantity=3 start=5 periodUnit="week" more=y} would be the code to display articles older than 5 weeks. And this works. But displays only 6 articles (as instructed). Once you add usePagination="y"

The articles plugin no longer skips older news, but starts with the very same, newest article like to front page does... It does paginate, but it starts at the wrong article...
