Description

As we are in 2021 and using the top of the edge of the technology we should be able to publish an information only once and have it copied/adapted/shared on many place.

For exemple:

Adding an event in the Tiki calendar like the Tiki Roundtable Meeting should:

- Create an article
- Create a forum post
- Create a post in the the mailing list (dev and user)
- Create (RSS feed) a shareable post in Facebook, Twitter and LinkedIn
- Eventually be part of a newsletter
- ...

It require thinking the process (using category, starting from the articles instead of the calendar or even from trackers), etc. and evaluating the existing tools.
