Description

At tiki-admin_actionlog.php the admin need to check each box one by one and there are quite a few if you want to select all.

We should have a select all (while toggle will be ok but less adapted IMO).

It may have to do with the user interface.

It is not user-friendly and even reading the help online (good interface should be understandable without help) it is unclear how to use it until you tried a few times.
