- Dogfood; Issues with social network icons alignment on Safari at tiki.org

Description

Tiki has a way to create "user" plugins with: https://doc.tiki.org/Plugin+Alias

At https://doc.tiki.org/tiki-admin.php?page=textarea or on the instance I created:
Go to Admin, Control Panels => Editing and Plugins => Plugin Aliases.
Create Aliases (or edit) and click on "Plugin parameter documentation" you will see a new form with checkboxes.

This happen on Safari 14.1.2 on Mac OSX but not on Chrome

The "Safe" checkbox overlap with text.

I just went through several browsers to see one of them that could not display correctly. all the browsers I tested work very well. I even went on mobile and on a samsunge tablet to have different screen sizes. I've installed tiki 23 on ubuntu with mozilla and still no reproduction of the problem. I don't know how to touch the code until I see the problem. I wonder if the user shouldn't just update his browser so that he won't have this problem anymore. I just couldn't get a mac to test safari too.

@eutyche.odimba, good fix.
Thanks you!
