Description

I upgraded a Tiki21.4 from SVN that was using Chosen to a Tiki23.x from Git using Select2 instead.

If I look at some multiselect tracker fields type, I see that there is no more "Multiples-selection Checkboxes" option and that field values where it was set have been emptied.

I suspect this is a regression introduced when we removed Chosen for Select2.

If you don't touch it, checkboxes are displayed and the tracker items seems ok.

If you select the only option available you can't get back checkboxes till you empty the selection... ?

It is quite confusing.

Solution

Would adding the missing option "Multiples-selection Checkboxes" and display it as the default empty selection fix this ?

Fixed (at least improved hopefully) in 23.x in dd5d81c3 ?

Thank you Jonny for your quick answer.
I upgraded the Tiki, check "your" new code is there and recheck.
Same as the picture above.

I rebuilt-index, clear cache check on Chrome and Safari... no joy.

It's a javascript fix, did you clear your browsers' caches?

??

Good fix then (tested).
Thanks.
