Description
       On Tiki23, when captcha is set to the original one (not Google) an image is displayed below an input field where you need to enter what you see on the image.

       However with Select2 enable as soon as I change focus on the input field (click in it) the feedback message "No items to show" is displayed over the image the user should "read" hidden it.

       Select2 is located here: Control panels, Features, Interface; jQuery Select2 Select Boxes : enable Select2 Sortable Multiselect : enable

       Captcha is located at Control panels, Log in, Captcha.

       See this screenshot (dev upload is broken) : https://ibb.co/h1pQz95

Solution
       There are case, like the captcha input, where we don't need feedback as the field is not supposed to auto-complete or to search anywhere.
