Description

For over a year (or even longer?) I have seen many times that I got, when I edited a bug report, I got both (!) success and failure indicated at the same time. Now this happened when I edited the "Illogical sorting of the Wishlist" report, see screenshot.

Something in the inner workings of trackers is wrong. How can it be, that a tracker got successfully updated and it's ID is missing in one and the same request? See screenshot...

Thanks

hman

So far I cannot tell whether there is a pattern when this consistency error shows up or doesn't show up, at least I could not see one.
