Description
When an admin perform a search the results found on the admin page will have the class "highlight" added. This class is adding a bright red background and border.

That's wrong language.
Red is for danger, critical, etc.

Should be more informative and less aggressive.

It's currently using the "danger" color, at least where the "highlight" class is used. Not the best choice, I agree. Can another Bootstrap alert color be used? We can adjust the actual color that the theme specifies for that class, at least for the bundled themes and themes by devs (I guess that's all of them) to be appropriate for highlight situations, too, as long as the color works ok in non-highlight situations. I'm thinking of alert-info maybe.
