Description

Tiki website admins probably expect page hits to be recorded and shown on List Pages, but they aren't unless the Stats feature is activated. (It seems to me they used to be, long ago, but maybe memory is failing me ;-).) If recording/displaying page hits can't be separated from the Stats feature, so it's on by default even if Stats isn't activated, then at least there should be a notice on List Pages like "To have page hits recorded and displayed here, activate the Stats feature."
