Description

The user tracker is very useful:

tiki-view_tracker_item.php?view=+user

However, sometimes, I may want to manage this info in many different wiki pages. For example, I would like to put these three user forms on different wiki pages:

```
{TRACKER(trackerId=>9, fields=>1:2:3, usertracker=>y)}{TRACKER}
```

{TRACKER(trackerId=>9, fields=>1:4:5, usertracker=>y)}{TRACKER}
```

```
{TRACKER(trackerId=>9, fields=>1:6:7, usertracker=>y)}{TRACKER}

trackerId #9 is a usertracker and field 1 is the login (so we can associate to appropriate tracker)

I would have more freedom to add instructions, comments, etc

Combined with WikiPluginTracker : Confirmation message to any URL, I could create multi-page user trackers.

If the info has already been filled in, the tracker plugin will come-up pre-filled, like tiki-view_tracker_item.php?view=+user does.

We could also have the same concept for the group tracker:
tiki-view_tracker_item.php?view=+group

And why not extend to any tracker?

Solution

Fixed in 1.10

```
{TRACKER(view=user, fields=1:2) /}
