Description

>> clever, but this causes quiet upload failures (which happen when >> PHP doesn't allow a sufficient uploaded file size, POST size, >> memory limit, or with an insufficient MySQL packet size limit).
>> When the upload fails, the error is displayed in a hidden iframe,
>> and the page keeps showing "Uploading file...".

> Maybe we could trap the error and send a error message... shouldn't be > too difficult with a error_handler I think !
> As it is really easy I let it to the reader ! 😊D
