May I say that you forgot to mention PluginList ? 😃
My 2 cents.

Indeed, i was going to say that i'm planning to add federated search to plugin list as soon as i can, and i would suggest not trying to add it to trackerlist as it would be very ugly 🥴

Seems we need a way to "connect / read / display / log" that then would work with "any" plugin or Tiki feature.

I added log thinking of 2 things. It is nice to see logs of connection and attempt to connection between Tiki instance for debug and monitoring purpose, but is is also nice to have an idea/stats of the interactions between instances.

So this idea is evolving into adding an API

Need to think about relative vs absolute content. Ex.: PluginInclude from another Tiki instance will fetch the wiki syntax. But that content could have links and images. How to deal with this?
